Unimplemented tests

Three testing scenarios were left out of testing. The first one, "Removing product from cart (16)", was left out due to a technical error while selecting the remove button. Although the update button in the Shopping cart worked, the remove button could not be selected and clicked after trying out various options. After discussions with colleagues, who had no trouble with this, there seems to be a technical issue on the author's side that cannot be fixed. Another test left out of the testing is "Confirming order (18)"and "Updating product availability (24)"due to technical problems and author giving up after hours of trying.
